Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in the Backend Developer position at Google. With over four years of experience building scalable and reliable applications using Python and Django, I have developed a strong foundation in designing REST APIs, managing relational and NoSQL databases, and integrating complex data pipelines.

In my previous roles at Inteliger, Ravpro, and FidenTech, I have led backend projects, optimized PostgreSQL queries, and implemented ETL processes to support real-time reporting and strategic business decisions. My experience in cloud environments (AWS and GCP) and Agile teams has allowed me to deliver high-quality, maintainable code in collaborative settings.

I am particularly drawn to Google's commitment to innovation and excellence in building distributed systems at scale. I am confident that my technical expertise in Python and Django, combined with my experience in system integration and data-driven applications, would allow me to contribute effectively to your engineering team.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my skills and experience align with the Backend Developer role at Google. Thank you for considering my application, and I look forward to the possibility of contributing to your team.

Sincerely,
Joao Lima
